

Inner Team

Schulz von Thun's "inner team" method is a people-oriented social psychology technique in which different personality parts of an individual or group interact with each other in an imaginary team. This tool allows a person or group to better understand how to interact and cooperate with each other. Have a look at the exemplary inner team characters. Print them and cut them out if you would like use them with your team. Maybe you would like to create your own?

Visit the m&b_portal for more information.

The Perfectionist

The Thoughtful

The Observer

The Silent

The Harmoniser

The Critic

The Doer

The Adaptable

The Preserver